

E&CE TECHNIQUE COURSE APPROVAL FORM FOR COMPUTER ENGINEERING AND ELECTRICAL ENGINEERING

The Department of Electrical and Computer Engineering (E&CE) will allow at most one nontechnical, technique-development course as part of the Complementary Studies Requirement for Engineering Students in the category of List D—Other Permissible Complementary Studies Courses (i.e., as a List-D CSE). Examples include language courses, dance/music studio courses, dramatic-performance courses, and the public-speaking course SPCOM 223. Your choice of course must be approved by E&CE. Also, except for SPCOM 223, the department offering the course must evaluate you to determine that the level of the course chosen is appropriate to your existing skills. The completed form is to be submitted to E&CE and will be retained in your file.
